Here it is! The new Catalog 2011/2012

As of now the new ratiolab[®] catalog is available. What changed? Instead of four individual brochures, we have now included the complete product range in one comprehensive catalog. Pictograms and appealing colors clearly differentiate the four product groups. The new layout makes it most user-friendly to handle.

Do you require copies for your customers and colleagues? Just let us know through sales@ratiolab.com. We will be most willing to advise and support you in any questions. We hope you will enjoy browsing the new catalog and discovering our product innovations.

Ratiopetta[®] - The rational Pipette

Ratiopetta[®] is the new pipette series from ratiolab[®]. As the name reveals this rational pipette mainly attracts price-conscious customers who disclaim over-engineered pipettes, but look for purposeful and smart devices.

Thereby ratiopetta[®] easily keeps up with its competitors for the crucial features.

Ratiopetta[®] single- and multichannel pipettes are available as of January 2011 in our standard program!

Cryo Tubes with Clever Caps!

As of now we are going to deliver our new generation of cryo tubes for all incoming cryo tubes orders:

Due to its revolutionary 2-component-cap no further sealings are necessary anymore. The highly transparent tubes are made out of polypropylene and are available with male or female thread.

Additional Features:

- usable down to -190°C
- manufactured under clean-room conditions
- sterilized by beta-radiation
- free of human DNA, DNase/RNase, Pyrogen and ATP
- huge labeling field for sample identification
- incl. graduation for accurate measuring

You can even benefit in pricing from our automatic change since we decided to keep the prices for the new tubes generation at the level of the old model.
